Welcome! I hope you are all settled into your rooms and excited to start the fall semester. It was great to meet a few of you during move-in week. I look forward to meeting you all once classes start. I wanted to take a few moments to introduce myself. I am originally from Miami but have lived in Tallahassee for over 20 years. I ran an exchange program in the Center for Global Engagement then did program evaluation in the Student Union. There are so many wonderful opportunities for you here at FSU and I hope that between the Peer Mentors, Emily, and I we can help make your first semester at FSU a great one!

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Hi, my name is Lilia Abalo! I was born and raised in Orlando, Florida and am currently studying Classical Archaeology with a minor in museum studies. My goal is to eventually graduate with a doctorate in Classical Archaeology and work on an Archaeological dig site in Italy or Greece and curate artifacts for a museum. I also plan to study abroad next summer at the Cetamura archaeological dig site through FSU which will let me experience some of my goals. I also would like to be a professor of classics and hopefully teach about ancient art at a university along the way. I love playing the Viola in multiple ensembles as well as crocheting and knitting. Another thing I love is reading, but especially about ancient history and fantasy. One fun fact about me is that I am fluent in Spanish and French, and I am currently learning Latin.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Hi, I'm Jenna Dalton from Jacksonville, Florida! Even though I've called Florida home for most of my life, my absolute favorite pastime is exploring new places and immersing myself in different cities. London, Paris, and Seattle have been some of the most interesting spots I've hit so far. Being a finance major, my goal is to work remotely while traversing the globe, a dream, but one I'm eager to pursue. Beyond my academic and career interests, I find comfort in activities such as yoga, strumming my guitar, and my four adorable cats back at home.
